RICE SITUATION IS MORE SERIOUS AS STORES FADE

ewer Junks Arriving And Purchases Of Stock Are Small

EALERS STANDING FIRM

xpect To Be Sold Out By July 1 And To Close Doors

The tension increased in the ce situation yesterday. Local ocks dwindled, fewer junks arved from the producing disicts and the rice merchants of e Settlement reiterated more mphatically than ever that they ill halt all business on July 1 nless the Municipal Council andons its program for licensg the shops from that date.

Officials, both Chinese and forgn, regard the outlook as exremely grave. There is no inication that the Council will give ay in the matter and if it does ot, nothing, in the opinion of en in close touch with condiions, can prevent a demonstraon.

Emissaries of the municipality ent to sound out the leaders of he dealers' and shopkeepers' uilds of Nantao and Chapei, with view to getting the latter to end representatives to whom the icensing scheme and its object ight be explained, have met with little success. Directors of ix rice merchants' associations t a meeting decided to refer the natter to the Chinese Advisory Committee to the Council and to et them consult with the Munipal body.

The City Chamber of Commerce nas written to the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, expressing the belief that if the licensing regulation is enforced the shops will suspend business and remove from the Settlement and asking that a request be made to the Council for cancellation of the order.

The rice shops in the International Settlement have practically ceased buying stock, those which are buying taking in only enough to supply the daily demand until the end of the month. The merchants in Frenchtown, Nantao and Chapei have likewise slashed their purchases to a minimum and the dealers up country are sending very little cargo to the local market—and are having trouble in disposing of even the little which they do send.

On Thursday only ten junks arrived here with rice and yesterday the number was even smaller.

Though the shops in Chapei, Nantao and the French Concession are not replenishing their stocks and the indications are that they will close their doors following closure of those in the Settlement, many of the dealers, it is declared, will do so only under pressure.

POLICE RESIGN; ARE DISSATISFIED WITH CONDITIONS

Eight Foreign Members Of Force Tender Their Resignations

Dissatisfaction among members of the lower ranks of the Municipal police force resulted yesterday in the tendering of resignations by eight men of the department.

The disaffection among a number of the more recently appointed constables has existed for some time and has been growing since the ratepayers' meeting in April, when the voters turned down the recommendations for increases put forward by the salaries commission. The last examinations for promotions brought about a determined show of discontent when the results were known Thursday. On Thursday evening a deputation of about a dozen men awaited on Captain E. I. M. Barrett and presented their case, stating that they could not continue on the salary paid and under present conditions. They were requested to defer further action until next Tuesday in order to give the Municipal authorities time to consider the matter.

This request was apparently acceded to but yesterday instructions were issued that the resignations of those who wished to terminate their services should be turned in.

Several of the men affected applied yesterday to the American naval recruiting office for service in the U.S. navy, it is understood, but were informed that owing to their not being of American citizenship they could not be enrolled here. It is rumored that further resignations may follow those of yesterday.

Labor Party Votes To Aid Coal Miners

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 23.—The Labor party conference at Brighton has passed a resolution in favor of providing all possible facilities to help the party to continue its support of the miners, and to diminish suffering in the mining districts.

The operative cotton spinners of Manchester have unanimously decided to accept the wages settlement. All branches of the spinning trade have now acquiesced in the reduction.

NEW LOAN PROPOSAL

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 23.—With President Harding's approval, Senator Penrose, as Chairman of the Finance Committee, has introduced in the Senate a bill dealing with Allied loans, and granting Secretary of the Treasury Mellon full authority to reconvert and extend loans or interest, to accept foreign securities in payment, and to settle all claims not at present secured.

CURZON TELLS EMPIRE HEADS BRITAIN MUST FIX POLICIES

'Not Practical For Dominions To Have Real Voice'

CARDS ON TABLE

Foreign Minister Closely Questioned By Smuts And Meighen

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 23.—The London correspondent of the "Manchester Gnardian" says the Imperial Conference has accepted the Foreign Office's plea against the publication of Lord Curzon's address, because of the number of delicate international questions involved.

The correspondent states, however, that Lord Curzon made a long and comprehensive survey of the principles guiding British foreign policy throughout the world since the termination of the war. He completely took the delegates into his confidence, laid all his cards on the table, and invited interrogation. General Smuts and Mr. Arthur Meighen examined him very closely on certain subjects.

The correspondent adds that the Foreign Office's present diplomatic ways make it exceedingly difficult to give a practical effect to the Dominions' claim for real voice in foreign affairs, at which some of the Dominion Premiers are dissatisfied. The problem will be discussed during later proceedings.

London, June 23.—During a debate in the House of Lords today Lord Curzon referred to the American request of November 1920 for communication of the draft mandates which had just then been sent to the Council of the League. Lord Curzon stated that not merely did the Council postpone discussion of the "A" and "B" mandates until the meeting of the Council which is now being held at Geneva but would probably further postpone consideration of them, in the hope that the governments concerned would communicate with the American Government before the meeting of the Assembly of the League in September. The reason for such a further postponement was the American Government's resumption of more active interest in the affairs of the world, which Great Britain welcomed, recognising that American co-operation was the best guarantee for the rapid recovery of world peace.

Lord Curzon added that he was quite prepared to act upon any suggestion by the Council of the League to discuss mandates.

Long Skirts Coming Back

THE long full skirt is coming back, according to leading Parisian designers, and mannikins are already displaying the newly created frocks at the Longchamps racetrack, near Paris, where this photo was made. It shows a model displaying a new frock featuring the basque effect, the long full skirt, and a wide collar of organdie. The loose cuffs are also of organdie.

Could Not Be Spared From Commons To Become Chief Justice Of England

BECAUSE of his value to the British Government in the House of Commons, Sir Gordon Hewart, reputed the most able Attorney-General who ever held that post in England, was not able to take the post of Lord Chief Justice of England, vacated recently by the Earl of Reading on his nomination to the Viceroyalty of India. To Sir Gordon, as a matter of unwritten law and tradition, belonged the succession to the Lord Chief Justiceship. The fact that his value to the Government prevented his accepting the post constitutes a remarkable tribute to his ability alike, as a statesman and a parliamentarian. Sir Alfred Tristan Lawrence, the oldest member of the bench, was nominated to the position of Lord Chief Justice by Premier Lloyd George.

TUCHUN WANG EXPLAINS WHY LOOTING WAS UNRESISTED

He "Didn't Want To Disturb Hankow With Gun Fire"

MAY LOSE POST

Delegation Goes To Peking To Protest, And Will Be Rewarded

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, June 22.—Wang Chan-yuen, Tuchun of Hupeh, has explained why he did not make an effort to halt the looting of Wuchang, capital of the province, and his home city.

It will be recalled that in the mutiny at Wuchang some scores of lives were lost and property damaged to the extent of $30,000,000. In view of these facts the Tuchun's explanation as to why he did not protest deserves to rank as one of the great jokes of all the ages. Wang says—but let him tell it in his own quaint and convincing words:

"I, Wang Chan-yuan, since my coming to Wuchang, have habitually held my soldiers in good order for the protection of the people. Unfortunately disbanded soldiers together with robbers looted Wuchang during the night.

"At the first moment I intended to attack these looters with great severity, but I recollected that Wuchang is the important capital city of Hupeh and that Hankow is a commercial city occupied both by foreign and Chinese residents and I did not wish to let the people suffer the disturbance of hearing the sounds of rifles and big guns.

"For this reason I pursuaded the looters to give up their arms and at the same time I secretly instructed the Brigadier Commander, General Liu, to shoot the looters on their arrival at Siaokan. The situation at Wuchang is now perfectly peaceful and quiet."

The end of General Wang Chan-yuan's rule as super-Tuchun in the Yangtze district is apparently near and it is now only a question of procedure so far as the Government is concerned.

The Hupeh residents who visited the Presidential palace yesterday after a mass meeting and demanded Wang's removal, had the facts with them and they obtained a promise from the Government that a formal reply would be given to their demands in a few days.

The reply according to report will be ready tomorrow when Premier Chin Yun-peng will personally receive the delegation and talk to the members.

At a special meeting of the cabinet today the whole Ichang and Wuchang matter was discussed, it is said, and the Government was quite frank in admitting that General Wang had been unable to control his soldiers and that his action merited severe punishment and removal.

However the whole political and military situation in Wang's area is unsettled and the Government does not wish to act without competent advice and careful investigation. The Ministers who met today with the Chief of Police of the Metropolitan District, the Chief secretaries of the Cabinet and President's Office felt that the Government should proceed carefully despite the showing of the Hupeh residents.

Before dismissing Wang, the officials will learn how many troops are still under him who are loyal and how many are of the kind who cannot be brought under rigid discipline.

The Government also wants to be satisfied that when it removed Wang, a strong man can be named to take the place.

Hupeh Delegation Demands Removal Of Tuchun Wang

Peking, June 21.—Residents of Hupeh did not mince words today when they went to the President's office following a protest meeting in Hukwang Guild and demanded the removal of High Inspecting General Wang Chan-yuan and the punishment of Ching Shao-cheng, Vice-Minister of War, who was delegated by the Government to investigate the mutinies at Ichang and Wuchang.

Charges of bribery were made openly and the residents of Hupeh declared that Wang might as well be removed now as at any other-

Kodak Hounds Soon Lose Scent When They Hit East

BY ELSIE McCORMICK

Every griffin coming to China brings at least two things. We are a bit hazy as to what the other thing is, but one of them is always a kodak. If you note the newcomers stepping ashore at the Customs Jetty, you will observe that they carry their kodaks almost as carelessly as a brand-new father does his heir apparent after having been cautioned about the soft place on its head and the [illegible] quality of its spine.

If you examine the picture boxes a bit more minutely, you will observe a bit of engraving on the case remarking that it is from a loving family or the Good Scouts' Club at the office. Whenever a person announces that he is going to the Orient, his friends' minds turn to cameras as naturally as a kitten does to the place where the ice-cream was spilled on the verandah.

On the way over, he relieves the tedium of the voyage by taking innumerable snap-shots of young ladies with life-preservers over their heads. Pictures taken toward the end of the trip show the young ladies supported in the belt area by carelessly draped arms not belonging to them. Occasionally, among the views, there is a smudge representing a flying-fish or flashlight showing a number of wide-eyed people arrayed in fancy-dress costumes and all looking in different directions.

THE EAGER TRAVELER

When the ship edges up to the dock at Yokohama, the newcomer can hardly endure waiting to tell the Japanese police inspector the date of his first tooth, whether or not he is fond of gold fish, and other information with which the Nipponese government safeguards its shores. When at last he has convinced the animated question-mark that he has no intention of carrying off the Diabutsu in his vest-pocket, he tenderly gathers up his kodak and permits the rest of his luggage to find its way out with a minimum of chaperonage.

Those first pictures taken in Japan are seldom a success. Rain meets every newly-arrived steamer as faithfully as an engaged girl does the postman. As a result the snap-shots are usually blurs of vanishing kurumas, ghastly figures in kimonos, and tangles of paper umbrellas, with an occasional flash of a wooden-clogged foot.

We traveled with a lady who was much addicted to taking snap-shots from the platform of a moving train. Every time she saw a temple, or a tori, or a wrestler with a huge top-knot, she dashed outdoors and shot it. As the result of her faithfulness and persistence, she acquired what is probably the prize snap-shot collection of telegraph poles to be found anywhere in the Far East.

When the party reached Peking, however, and did its snapping on a non-skidding foundation, the pictures showed a marked improvement. We have an exquisite view of the Temple of Heaven, or as much of it as could show around the edges of us and our umbrella, a marvellous view of the [illegible] place with our new fur coat in the foreground; and another exquisite picture of the Chienmen Gate, or rather, that section of it that happened to be behind where we were standing.

FADING ENTHUSIASM

By the time the traveler reaches Shanghai, however, there is a tendency to let the kodak ride in the baggage-car. He has probably lost his book of directions, anyway, and times the pictures by a method of his own which makes it seem that they were all taken in a lowering thunder-storm. He has found, too, that many an innocent-looking package of films is a sepulchre of mildew and that the only pictures which turn out well are those which were shot accidentally or for the purpose of using up a roll so that it could be developed.

A faint flickering of his old love, however, leads him to the Mandarin Gardens in the Chinese City where he takes a picture of the Dragon Wall heavily frescoed with his friends. If he hasn't done it before, he also has a snap-shot taken of himself in a ricsha. If it happens to be a person of feminine persuasion, she usually tears up the film with a resolution not to cross her feet any more when she goes ricking through the city streets.

At this point the kodak usually goes into winter quarters for an indefinite stay. The person who formerly shot everything with the recklessness of Bill Hart becomes as law-abiding as a member of a Civic Improvement League. The kodak is resurrected during the summer, perhaps to take a picture of a Chinese baby in a gee-string or the owner in a sedan-chair, but for the rest of the time it lies as dusty and forgotten as ten-year-old love letters.

As for us, the camera which kind friends once gave us and which we used as frequently as most people do a powder puff on a summer night is now locked away in a battered trunk. Whenever we feel inclined to take a snap-shot, we run into a store and buy a picture post card.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE ARE AGREED ON ALL ISSUES

Two Powers In Unison On Silesia And Near East

TO CONSULT ROME

Premier Briand's Speech On General Situation Well Received

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, June 23.—Addressing the Senatorial Commission on Foreign Affairs, under the chairmanship of M. Poincare, the Premier (M. Briand) delivered a very full and clear statement on the question of Upper Silesia, the situation in the Near East and the recent conversations with Germany on the subject of reparations. In doing so, M. Briand indicated the standpoint and hopes of the French Government in regard to each of these matters.

From the Premier's speech, it appears that the British attitude as to the procedure to be adopted in Upper Silesia nearly corresponds with that of France. It seems clear that hereafter the Supreme Council will come to no decision until some agreement has been previously and unanimously established, either by the Inter-Allied Commission as composed at present, or by the technical experts, diplomats, engineers, jurists, etc., who will assist the Commission, the members of which will remain in France.

In Greece, M. Briand declared, there was no question of recalling General Lerond.

As regards Near Eastern affairs, it appears that a similar reconciliation of British and French views is to be hoped for, in which matter the Rome Government will also have a say. It seems probable that the Turks and Greeks will realise the critical nature of the situation, and that any fresh offensive would be disastrous to both sides. The mediation offered by the Allies is likely to be accepted.

VIEWS EXCHANGED

Reporting on the recent Franco-German conversations, as to which, he said, it would be premature to forecast the results, M. Briand announced that he had exchanged views with the members of the Reparations Commission.

The French press emphasises that M. Briand's exposition produced an excellent impression. Gratification is especially expressed at the prospect of Italian support in dealing with the Upper Silesian problem, and also that Great Britain, taking the same view as France as to the future of Smyrna, shows a disposition to discuss other controversial points.

According to Athens advices, the Greek press contends that the Allied offer of mediation should be refused if the Allies demand the evacuation of Smyrna.

Paris, June 23.—There was a sitting of the Conference of Ambassadors today under the presidency of M. Jules Cambon, when various questions were discussed in connection with the observance of treaties, especially with a view to a more rigorous execution of the Treaty of Trianon.

London, June 23.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Chamberlain, after a statement with reference to Lord Curzon's recent visit to Paris, and the steps then decided on with the object of terminating the Graeco-Turkish conflict, proceeded to refer to the situation in Silesia. He stated that a scheme had been approved for the progressive withdrawal of the insurgent and German forces from the disputed area. Twenty thousand Allied troops would maintain order in the evacuated territory, pending the Allied decision as regards boundaries.

TO SUBMIT REPORT

The Allied Commissioners in Silesia had, he stated, been invited to submit a joint report with technical assistance, but, if this course was impracticable, the Allies were prepared to refer the matter to a technical commission in London or Paris, in order to assist the Supreme Council in its final decision. The Supreme Council would meet at Boulogne in July to consider this and other matters.

Mr. Chamberlain concluded by stating that the conversations in Paris had throughout been characterised by the greatest friendliness, and by a desire for close co-operation on both subjects.

Athens, June 23.—The Prime Minister and Minister of War

having returned from Smyrna, a Cabinet Council was immediately convened to discuss the Allied offer of mediation in the Graeco-Turkish conflict. There are indications that the Government will accept the proposal in principle, but will endeavor to ascertain the Allied conditions before committing itself.

Dutch To Develop Batavia Oil Fields

(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, June 23.—Replying to the First Chamber's report on the committee stage of the Djambi Oilfields Bill, the Colonial Minister emphasised the Dutch character of the Batavian Oil Company in particular, and of the Royal Dutch-Shell Group (to which the Batavian Company belongs) generally. He said this precluded unfortunate international consequences. The Government could not countenance foreign attempts to interfere in Dutch legislation, as what was conceded to one State could not be very well refused to others. He added that the Japanese Government had recently asked whether there was a possibility of Japanese capital sharing in the exploitation of the oil-fields in the Dutch Indies.

The Hague, June 23.—In a further reply to the American Government's protest against the Djambi oilfield monopoly being awarded to the Batavia Oil Company, the Dutch Government reiterates that the negotiations with the Batavia Company were too advanced last September to permit of the American proposals receiving consideration.

It denies that the bill is contrary to the principle of reciprocity, and repeats that it is by no means desirous of excluding American capital from an equitable share in the petroleum industry of the Dutch Indies, within the limits of the law governing private enterprise.

time as his removal was bound to take place sooner or later.

The Government has not replied to the request and it may find it embarassing to making an early decision. General Chang Tso-lin has told the Government that Wang must remain at his post and have another chance.

When the Hupeh residents convened today they carried banners on which there were several demands. Some asked for Wang's removal and others for his death.

The President appointed a representative to receive the delegation but it was not expected that he would take action without conferring with other members of the Government.

Crane Gives Views On Tuchuns' Rule

Before leaving Mukden for the north, Mr. Charles R. Crane expressed his views regarding local autonomy so much talked of among the Chinese, says a despatch to the North China Daily Mail. He said that before all else, China must get rid of her Tuchuns and a good part of her troops. A quarter of a million soldiers ought to be sufficient for the purpose of maintaining peace and order instead of the 1,700,000 men China has at the present time, under the control of Tuchuns.

For the upkeep of these superfluous troops the Government has paid out, during the past eight years, sums large enough to pay off the country's foreign and domestic loans. Although realising the importance of reducing troops, Peking is powerless to carry the desire into execution. He did not see what else could save China but international control.

He gathered there had been misunderstandings between China and Japan regarding the Chinese Eastern Railway. He thought it worth while to find out the real cause for these misunderstandings. It is evident that China herself is unable to control the line and that in order to make it a paying proposition it must be placed under international control. A great deal is often said about the necessity of raising money to put the railway in a financially sound state. He did not think it very important where the money came from and all that he wished was to see the Chinese Eastern Railway on a profitable working basis for China's benefit, if for nothing else.

Paleonthologists To Join Andrews

Prof. Walter Granger, a paleonthologist attached to the Museum of Natural History of New York City, and Mr. Clinton Pope, a graduate of the University of Virginia, arrived in Shanghai Thursday on the Pacific Mail steamer Golden State, enroute Peking to join Mr. Roy Chapman Andrews "Missing Link" expedition which is being organised for research work beyond the Gobi desert in the hope of unearthing something of the evolution of man.

Prof. Granger joins the expedition as a fossil expert. He has studied fossils in the American Rocky Mountains for the last 25 years, and is considered one of America's foremost scientists. He has also made one trip to Egypt, where he worked on behalf of the New York museum in the pryamid districts.

Mr. Pope will have charge of research work concerning reptiles and fish. He will supervise the selection of living specimens which have not as yet been catalogued.

The arrival of Prof. Granger and Mr. Pope fill out Dr. Andrews party almost to its full foreign complement. But three more men are awaited to join the expedition. These are Prof. Berkey, a geologist of Columbia university, Mr. H. F. Olsen, Prof. Granger's assistant in paleonthological investigation, and one other, an orinthologist, as yet unknown to Prof. Granger and Mr. Pope.

The expedition will start across the Gobi desert in the early spring. The first work of research will be done in the Urga district, after which the party will continue westward toward Lower Mongolia.

Soochow University Commencement Week To Begin Saturday

Shanghai capitalist and philanthropist.

This has been in every respect the greatest year in the history of Soochow University. For the first time the enrollment passed the five hundred mark. The graduating class of the College Department is almost twice as large as any previous class, including eleven B. A. seventeen B. S., and one M. A. The graduating class of the Law Department in Shanghai, where Commencement Exercises were held on Saturday, June 25, includes four men for the LL.B. degree.

During the year a temporary gymnasium has been erected, and an electric light plant installed which furnishes current to the whole mission community (three compounds) twenty-four hours a day. The contract has just been let for an additional faculty residence. The graduating class is erecting a granite finished, three-arch gateway at the front entrance of the University at a cost of several hundred dollars.

Next fall the new department of chemical engineering, which has advertised for several years, will be opened. This will necessitate several additions to the teaching staff. To accommodate this and the other growing science departments the erection of a modern science hall will be begun in the near future, to be ready for occupancy by the fall of 1922.

The President has announced the following additions to the staff for next year: Professors of economics education, physics, mathematics, several assistant professors, and a trained librarian.

Civic League To Issue Statement

The Shanghai Civic League will shortly issue a statement to the public regarding its attitude on the plan for widening The Bund which will entail cutting a 60 foot strip from the Public Garden.

Sims Misquoted, He Tells His Chief

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 23.—Admiral Sims has reported to Secretary of the Navy Denby, whom he informed that he had been misquoted in the press accounts of his remarks in London regarding Irish sympathisers in the United States.

CHURCH-UNION

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 23.—An important step towards the union of the Church of Scotland with the United Free Church was taken today when the Church of Scotland Bill was read for the second time in the House of Commons. The Bill gives spiritual freedom to the Church of Scotland and legalises certain articles of faith which are virtually identical with the tenets of the Free Church. The Bill is thus an essential preliminary to the union of the two Churches. The question of endowments will be dealt with in a later measure.

HUTUKHTU'S ENVOY

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 22.—According to a report from Kalgan, the Hutukhtu has cancelled the authority he gave to Niu Foo-hou to act as his representative at Peking, and has appointed a Mongol, named Tu Gu-erh, to act in that capacity. The report says that Tu is now on his way to Peking and carries fresh assurances of the Hutukhtu's desire to be on friendly terms with China.

King Gratified By Irish Welcome

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 23.—Their Majesties the King and Queen reached Euston Station today on their return from Belfast, and were received by the Prime Minister, whom the King informed that he had never received a more splendid welcome in any part of the Empire than he did at Belfast.

Both Houses of the Northern Parliament held their first ordinary business sittings today in the City Hall, Belfast, when the ceremonial was exactly modelled upon that of Westminster. The principal business was the reading by the Viceroy of the King's speech, as prepared by the Cabinet.

This indicated that, when the various Government Departments were working, an endeavor would be made to expand trade, to remodel the educational system, and to amend the licensing laws. The usual debate followed, after which the members adjourned till September 20. The Sinn Fein and Nationalist members were absent from today's sitting.

New hopes of an Irish peace have been awakened by the King's appeal at Belfast that Irishmen should unite.

Commenting on the subject, the Freeman's Journal says that a truce is essential in order to give the peace-makers a fair field in which to realise His Majesty's desires, which are equally the desires of the Irish nation.

He has despatched his aide, Wu Ko-chen to Peking to secure a permit from the Ministry of War. Not Proper Time To Disarm'—Weeks

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Hartford, Mass., June 22.—Secretary of War Weeks, in the course of a speech delivered here, said the present Administration was desirous of disarming as far as was safe. "But," he said, "the time has not come to make a move towards everlasting peace. When that time comes we shall make such a move." He added that the Administration was in possession of information which made it the only competent judge as to how far it was safe to disarm.

LEAGUE BUDGET £1,132,000 FOR 1922; NEW PLAN

Members To Pay According To Revenue And Population

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 23.—The provisional Budget of the League of Nations for 1922 shows an estimated expenditure of £1,132,000, of which Great Britain's share on the present basis of division is £58,000.

The committee appointed to consider the revision of the scale of contributions has reported to the Council, which is now sitting at Geneva. It is recalled that the contributions were originally based on the universal Postal Union system, but were opposed at the last Assembly by the British Dominions and smaller nations.

The Committee now proposes that the members shall be divided into categories, based on each country's revenue and population. The nations thus fall into seven well-defined groups, the first containing Great Britain and France, with an average slightly exceeding 18 percent, while the lowest States average 0.1 percent. The committee proposes that the League's expenses be paid in the proportion of 90, 65, 35, 15, 10, 5 and 2 for the respective classes. The Empire will considerably benefit by the new proposals, Great Britain being the only first-class contributant. India ranks in the second class; Canada in the third; Australia and South Africa in the fourth and New Zealand in the fifth.

New X-Ray Device May Cure Cancer

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 24.—The authorities of the West London Hospital have issued a hopeful report regarding experiments recently made with a new design of X-ray apparatus, employing a wave-length which has hitherto not been used. The design is that of a Bavarian radiologist. The Hospital predicts that it will be possible to cure 80 percent of cancer cases, thanks to this new invention.

Hongkong To War On Rent Gougers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, June 24.—Speaking at yesterday's sitting of the Legislative Council, the Governor said it was perfectly clear that it was the intention of a large number of landlords in the Colony to take advantage of the scarcity of houses to rack-rent their tenants. The situation had become the more difficult owing to the fact that the number of Chinese coming to Hongkong had been largely increased by the troubles in neighboring territory.

They had no desire to interfere with hospitality to such refugees, but the Government owed duties to the permanent residents. He regarded the system of farming out the collection of rents to middlemen, and thus raising rents, as a scandalous outrage on public decency. He asked the Councillors to assist the Government in dealing with landlords who had chosen to defy the Government and public opinion.

A Committee was appointed to consider and advise as to steps to protect tenants of domestic tenements against unreasonable increases of rentals, and the arbitrary termination of tenancies.

NEW ANFU PLOT

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, June 23.—It is stated on good authority that evidence has come to light that a conspiracy is being engineered by the Anfu Party in a certain foreign concession locally, aimed at the overthrow of the Tuchun, General Wang Chuan-yuan. The agitators are said to be subsidised by foreigners.

The soldiers are at present quiet in the Wuchang and Hankow districts.

Peking, June 23.—Many former Anfuite members of Parliament have left Peking for Hangchow within the last few days.

NEW WAR BOOK

(French Wireless through Reuter)

He had arranged to meet General Tsai Tien at Wuyuan for a conference regarding Outer Mongolia.

Reds Accused Of Seizing U.S. Ships

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 23.—The mystery of the sea, which has aroused considerable interest and speculation in America—viz., the recent disappearance of various small steamers from the North Atlantic—is apparently explained by the statement of the police in New York that documents seized eighteen months ago in a raid on the headquarters of the United Russian Workers of the United States and Canada disclosed a plot to seize American vessels at sea by placing on them sufficient men to overpower the remainder of the crew and thus divert vessels to ports in Soviet Russia. Several arrests were made when the documents were seized, and the persons implicated in the plot were deported.

Laundry 'Resolutions' Subject Of Application For Restraint Writ

The laundry situation still appears to be about as jumbled up as the weekly wash after the customary revision by washerman, houseboy and coolie.

The latest development was caused by the issuance of "The Resolutions of Shanghai Laundry-Men's Guild for Increasing Laundry-Charges Towards Foreign Patrons," and consists in an application for an injunction made at the Mixed Court on behalf of the "Shanghai Laundry Guild." The application was made by Mr. P. M. Linebarger and indicates that there are at least two sets of wash tub artists operating locally. The petition asks that the organisation which inserted the advertisement be restrained from using the name of the Shanghai Laundry Guild and from further advertising of the resolutions set forth, or from "inciting animosity or anti-foreign discrimination and agitation."

The only thing which is agitating the foreign patrons of laundries is the pertinent and at present nebulous possibility of what the costs of laundering are to be. And there seems little hope of getting anything definite on this topic just now.

Litigants Lose Confidence As Bolt Hits Mixed Court

The Mixed Court building on North Chekiang Road was struck by lightning yesterday, shortly before noon, causing Chinese litigants much trepidation as to the joss to be encountered before a tribunal so obviously disfavored of the gods.

The bolt struck a galvanised iron chimney, sundering it from the wall, but supporting wires prevented the stack from falling to the ground.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. SIZER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

HUNGHUTZE KEEP UP TERROR REIGN ALONG RAILWAY

Chinese Soldiers Refuse To Arrest Raiders; Cattle Stolen

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 22.—Reports received in Peking from Harbin state that since the beginning of the month there has been renewed activity on the part of the Hunghutze along the Chinese Eastern Railway. The Chinese soldiery appear to be doing nothing to check the attacks of the hunghutze and in one instance at least, which occurred at the beginning of the month, appear to have had no desire to interfere.

In the case in question all the cattle belonging to the railway employees at Pogranitchnaya had been driven off by the bandits, and two Russians were also captured. The cattle were held to ransom at $10 per head and the men at $400. A Chinese force was sent out in pursuit of the raiders and succeeded in overtaking them. However, when the troops came up with the hunghutze, of whom only six were armed, they parleyed with them and finally returned without making any effort either to arrest the raiders or to rescue their victims. The matter was eventually settled by the railwaymen subscribing to pay the ransom demanded.

There have also been a number of outrages on the timber concessions in the district. On June 14 twelve Russian railway officials, who were examining and passing firewood for the Chinese Eastern Railway on the Popoff Concession, near Imyanpo, were captured by the bandits. Seven of them were set at liberty today but the remaining five are being held for a ransom of $50,000. At present the return of the Colonel in command of the Concession Guard, who himself was formerly a hunghutze, is awaited, when it is expected that the affair will be settled.

A large band on the far side of Imyanpo is demanding a large sum of money from the authorities of the railway, threatening that, if it is not forthcoming, they will burn down a bridge on the Kovalski Concession branch line, and also a large quantity of timber which is lying there. It was arranged that $40,000 should be paid to the Chinese Concession Guard to protect the timber concessions but the concessionaires are nervous of the proximity of these troops and, in telegraphing for assistance, the concessionaires make a point of insisting that the troops sent should be paid and have an ample stock of provisions.

Concepcion, Manila Banker, Is Arrested

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, June 24.—General Venancio Concepcion, ex-President of the Philippine National Bank, who is charged by the fiscal authorities of the city with violation of the banking law, has been arrested and released on bail.

The official auditor, who laid the information, stated today: "I requested that charges be preferred against General Concepcion as I found that he, when President and a Director of the Bank, had indirectly borrowed 750,000 pesos from it." The law, he said, prohibited both direct and indirect borrowing from a Bank by any of its Directors, under penalty of a fine of 10,000 pesos, or five years' imprisonment.

General Concepcion, who resigned his post last November, recently stated that his conscience was clear, and that he welcomed the investigation.

BASEBALL CHIEFS PLANNING FOURTH OF JULY GAME FOR SHANGHAI AND NAVY TEAMS

Two Games To Be Played Today If Grounds Are Dry; Shanghai Is Out To Win From Men Of Fleet

A doubleheader of baseball will be played at the Race Course diamond this afternoon provided it does not rain. The Huron nine, which has won both of its games in the special schedule of games, will meet the Chandler team at 2 p.m. and Shanghai will take on the boys representing the 1st Section of the 13th division of the flotilla in the second match at 4 p.m.

The outcome of the games this afternoon will have a vital bearing on the results of the Spring schedule of play. If the Huron beats the Chandler, they will finish the schedule with a perfect score of three games won and a standing of 1,000 percent. If the Huron loses they will still have .666 percent, which is the best score that any of the other teams may make even by winning all remaining games.

Shanghai by winning today and again tomorrow can tie the Huron's average, provided the Chandler men beat the flagship men today, and will have nominal position of league leader with a percentage equal to that of the Huron, but with twice as many games played.

After tomorrow's games, chief interest will center in the big Fourth of July game, which is a fixture of the Independence Day celebration. It is almost certain now that Shanghai will meet the Huron team in this game.

Major J. R. Ross, Manager of the Shanghai Baseball Club yesterday wrote the Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic fleet, quoting the conditions attaching to the cup contest for the Fourth, and asking that a team be designated by the Admiral to represent the navy. The letter follows:

June 24, 1921.

"The Commander-in-Chief,
U.S. Asiatic Fleet,
U.S.F.S. 'Huron,'
Shanghai.

"Dear Sir.—In connection with the Fourth of July celebrations in Shanghai, it is customary to feature, among the other events of the day, a game of baseball between the Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club and a naval team for the "Perpetual Challenge Baseball Cup" under the following conditions:

1.—The Fourth of July Baseball game will be played for the perpetual challenge cup (presented by the American Community in 1916 and kept at the American Club) between the All Shanghai team and a naval team designated by the fleet athletic officer as the champion naval team.

2.—This naval team shall represent either the Flagship, one of the cruisers, or the various divisions of the destroyer fleet, the Yangtze River gunboat fleet, or a team from any single boat comprising the destroyer or river gunboat fleet.

3.—The team so designated shall not be a general team made up from the various naval teams existing in the fleet.

4.—Any elimination games necessary for such nomination must be played prior to July Fourth.

5.—The Shanghai Baseball team must be made up of bona fide members of the Shanghai Baseball Club.

"Will you kindly do the necessary to have a team designated in accordance with the conditions set forth, to contest with the Shanghai club on the coming Fourth of July?

"We would ask that, if practicable, a naval band be in attendance at the ball grounds to render patriotic and popular music before and during the progress of the game.

"May we ask that you furnish a patrol on this day to keep all spectators clear of the playing field and behind the ropes, marking off the playing field.

"Your co-operation and assistance in this connection will be gratefully appreciated.

"Yours very truly,
J. H. Ross."

SAYS "BUGS" Baer: NEVER PLAYED HUMPTY DUMPTY

The Champion Of Roughtown Never Had A Great Fall; Never Had ANY Great Season

BY 'BUGS' BAER

To whom it doesn't concern—Know ye, by these goops, that my protege, Slamming Tompkins, knocked Gink Fowler for a row of debris. Slam was the originator of the now famous one, two slug. He thumped to waltz music. One, two meant that he took two to give one. He crashed Gink so hard that he knocked him back on his mother's lap.

Yours until the laughing hyenas cry,

BILLY BARLOW
305 Norton Avenue,
Scranton, Pa.

There is no record of Slamming Tompkins having slammed anything in Roughtown but a door But one thing we slip to him. He was a great salesman. He could sell alarm clocks in graveyards He sold his way into a match with the Roughtown champion. He was a wonderful linguist. He spoke that most difficult language Checko-Dodgia. That means dodging a check. When the waiter held the official inquest at the end of the meal, Slam was never caught with the guilty tip.

He got away with it until he pattered into Roughtown. He ran up against a wire-whiskered hash messenger, who had been dealing off the arm for many a flatfooted year. Slam figured him for a rubber collar polisher, and proceeded to eat himself into a new set of double chins. This waiter was none other than The Glutt who was loitering around Roughtown waiting for Gink Fowler to come down out of a tree.

Although not generally known the Champ of Roughtown was never happy on the ground. His home was in the treetops. The Glutt didn't fall for the Broad A that Tompkins was slipping him He had been educated in a Chinese laundry. No checkee, no washee, was his motto. And he had that slogan woven on both sides of his visiting cards. He took one loose-leaf bopp at Tompkins, and made him think he was an errand boy on the wrong errand. Tompkins left town feet first. The news got into the papers and The Glutt almost got a match with Gink.

Just when it seemed it was on Gink climbed into a higher tree.

Four Men Teams Compete At Clay Pigeon Club; June Cup, Too

Members of the Shanghai Clay Pigeon Club will compete for the June Cup (postponed from last week) tomorrow at 3:30 p.m., conditions being 40 birds from Leggett trap. Club handicaps.

In view of the fact that Mr T. E. Doremus, one of the American team, is leaving Shanghai on Saturday for America, there will unfortunately be only four Americans available to shoot in the match against the British team.

It is intended however to have the match, four men a side instead of the original five.

The teams will be:

British—Nazer, Read, Algar, Gande.

American—Gibson, Hexamer, Hendricksen, Himrod.

London, June 23.—Resuming their match against Northamptonshire at Northampton today, in brilliant, hot weather, and in the presence of some 6,000 spectators, the Australians, favored with a fast and perfect wicket, brought their first innings (which stood at 538 for six wickets when stumps were drawn yesterday) up to 621, all out. Gregory, whose not-out score yesterday was 106, was out for 107, which included 14 fours, in a patchy innings which lasted altogether two hours 13 minutes. INVENTS A NEW AIRPLANE THAT FLIES LIKE BIRD

Prof. Nimfuhr, Austrian Scientist, Develops Theory Of 'Pulsating' Wings

INTERESTS U. S. FINANCIERS

Will Visit America To Supervise Construction Of Full-Sized Machines

BY HARRY HARPER
(Technical Secretary of the British Civil Aerial Transport Committee)

London, May 14.—A vista so wonderful that our whole conception of the place of aircraft in the scheme of transport may have to be altered. Such is the promise of the new "pulsating" wing of the Austrian scientist Professor Raimund Nimfuhr.

The basis of the theory has just been investigated by experts of such repute as Herr Schwenger, chief of the Zeppelin works, and Herr Skopik, head of the designing staff of the Fokker works. Both have indicated their belief that Professor Nimfuhr is on right lines by joining the directorate of the "Nimfuhrsche Segelflug Syndikat."

Even more significant is the interest financiers are taking in the promise the Nimfuhr method offers of so reducing the power necessary to drive aircraft that aerial transport can be made cheaper than earth transport.

AMERICANS ARE INTERESTED

Following the formation of the original syndicate in Holland, a Paris financial group bid for patent rights. Now news is to hand that a powerful American syndicate, negotiating direct with Professor Nimfuhr's office in Vienna, has eclipsed all rivals, with the result that the professor, accompanied by his assistant, Engineer Gazda, is about to visit the United States to superintend the construction of full-sized machines embodying his principle.

The theory on which Professor Nimfuhr has been working is that we should concentrate attention on the propulsive methods of birds and insects. Airplanes with fixed wings and an engine driving a propeller can, according to this line of research, be shown vastly inferior in relative performance to either a bird or an insect.

A 10-HORSEPOWER BIRD

If one could take a bird like an albatross and increase it in size till it was as big as a medium-sized present-day biplane, it would, it is claimed, exert not more than the equivalent of about 10-h.p. in propulsion, whereas the biplane would require about 200-h.p. A giant gnat, big as an aeroplane, it is averred, would fly with infinitely less exertion of power than is required for any of our existing machines.

The Nimfuhr principle is to imitate mechanically, so far as it is possible to do so, the methods of Nature, in the wings of birds and insects. The Nimfuhr "pulsating wing" relies upon an extraordinarily rapid vibrating or stroke action upon the cushion of compressed air which in flight is formed beneath a sustaining plane.

The actual Nimfuhr wing, as constructed for a full-sized machine, will, it is understood, be hollow, with a flexible membrane on the underside. By pneumatic mechanism this membrane is set pulsating or vibrating with such rapidity that waves of atmospheric pressure are generated which shall, it is intended, not only sustain but also propel the machine. Air-screws will, in fact, be eliminated.

STRETCH THE WINGS

There is also a system whereby the extremities of the wings can be extended or contracted by pneumatic action to produce results such as are obtained by birds in stretching or folding their wings.

Another feature is an automatic stabiliser, in which disturbances of balance set in motion levers which, actuated by small motors, counteract by their movement of the wings any tendency of the machine to lose its equilibrium.

Experts are looking forward to the building of the full-sized machines on this principle. It is only by construction and operation that the mechanical problems of such a wing and the question of the weight of gear required in achieving intricate movements can be solved.

If Professor Nimfuhr's claims are substantiated in large-scale work—and soaring tests have already been made and pulsating wings of some size tested satisfactorily—it is calculated that a transocean craft built on this principle and carrying several hundred people would be so economical in power that passengers could be carried by air between Europe and America cheaper than in a steamship.

Siberian Journals Hail Ungern Rout

(Dalta News Agency)

Chita, June 19.—The Far Eastern Truth says that the conflict with Ungern's bandits is the direct outcome of the Maritime adventure. "It was calculated that Ungern's movement would threaten the rear of Far Eastern forces but no sooner than the appearance of the White Guard bandits, the peasants of the Bichursk district raised in an instant several thousand volunteers who could not be kept at home even at a time when their services were most needed in the fields and farms. Evidently recollections of past atrocities of Ungern, Semenoff, and Tirbach were still fresh in the minds of the inhabitants."

The Far Eastern Republic also points out the close connection between the Troitskossavsk incident and the events in Maritime Province. In both places the paper sees signs of a common plan for an assault upon Russia. The defeat of Ungern means the breaking of a chain formed by Ungern, Semenoff, Merkuloff and Annenkoff. The paper believes that the peasant population which triumphantly rose in defence of its freedom and independence will crush the Maritime adventure just as successfully.

Our Voice, appraising the relations of Britain, America, France and Japan, warns against the granting of special interests in the Far East to Japan whose freedom of action is only of a temporary character and may be terminated by a union of Britain and America against the Franco-Japanese Convention.

CAT LIVES 25 DAYS IN HOLE

Recovers Quickly on Getting Milk and Washes its Whiskers.

Paris, May 20.—How long can a cat live in a dark hole without food? The answer is twenty-five days, according to accounts in the Paris press of a cat's adventure.

Twenty-five days ago a mason mending a rainpipe system on the Church of St. Ambrose closed up a pipe which was not to be discarded. Yesterday it was opened again and from it emerged a blinking, emaciated cat, staggering on feeble legs. The animal had scarcely strength to lap warm milk hastily procured by the workmen from a neighboring cafe, but by the time it had finished it was sufficiently recovered to attend to its toilet and to wash its whiskers.

MORE HUSBANDS OF 'BLUEBEARD' SOUGHT IN U. S.

Insurance Companies To Determine Payments Made To Mrs. Southard

IS 'WILLING TO RETURN'

Arrangements For Early Extradition From Hawaii To Idaho Being Made

Los Angeles, May 14.—While an Idaho officer waits in San Francisco the arrival of extradition papers and the sailing of a steamer for Honolulu, where he will take Mrs. Eva Southard, "Bluebeard" suspect into custody the authorities continue investigation to learn if the woman married any other men in Southern California.

Insurance companies have been asked to search their records to discover whether Mrs. Southard was paid money on the policies of possible other husbands. Records have disclosed the deaths of four husbands, a brother-in-law and her infant daughter. The five men all carried insurance naming her as the beneficiary.

Deputy Sheriff Ormsby, of Twin Falls, Ia., has announced in San Francisco plans to leave with Mrs Ormsby for Honolulu on the steamer Matsonia Wednesday. The papers for Mrs. Southard's extradition will be taken to San Francisco by Sheriff Sherman of Twin Falls County.

DENIES GUILT

Mrs. Southard, in her first statement on the case in jail at Honolulu, emphatically denied guilt of the deaths of her four husbands and claimed she had physicians' certificates to prove they died from natural causes.

Mrs. Southard is charged specifically with the murder of her fourth husband, Edward F Meyer, on September 7, 1920, at Twin Falls. Two days after the death of Meyer the county chemist of Twin Falls, suspecting a prison plot, started an investigation which resulted in the finding of arsenic in Meyer's stomach.

The bodies of Meyer and of little Lorraine Dooley, a daughter of Mrs. Southard by her first husband, were exhumed from the Twin Falls Cemetery on April 2 1921.

The body of Harlan C. Lewis third husband of Mrs. Southard who died July 6, 1919, at Billings Mont., was exhumed on April 11 1921. It also was found in almost a perfect state of preservation, as were the bodies Robert C. Dooley, her first husband, and Edward Dooley, his brother which were exhumed this Spring at Keysville, Mo. They were buried in the Fall of 1915.

SAME POISONING TRACES

In all of the autopsies traces of the same poison were found, according to the Twin Falls authorities.

Mrs. Southard, who is twenty-eight and attractive, expresses willingness to return to the United States without legal process. Arrangements for her early extradition are being made by Insular authorities.

Her husband, Paul Vincent Southard, chief naval petty officer on the U. S. S. Chicago, and husband No. 5, who married the alleged poisoner in Los Angeles last November, has offered to pay her passage to the United States immediately.

Southard claimed his wife's health was such that further jail confinement might produce serious results.

The Honolulu police have taken precautions to frustrate any attempt she may make to kill herself, which has been feared.

POISON TRACES FOUND

Twin Falls, Idaho, May 14.—Investigating the death of Edward F. Meyers whose widow, Mrs. Lyda Southard, is under arrest in Honolulu, County Chemist Earl R. Dooley found traces of poison in refuse food in the ranch where Meyers had been.

Dooley's report to the county authorities started the investigation which led to the arrest of Mrs. Southard.

The bodies of Meyers and of Lorraine Dooley, daughter of Mrs. Southard by Robert C. Dooley, her first husband, were exhumed from the Twin Falls Cemetery April 2, 1921. Inflammation caused by poisoning were discovered in both with traces of poison.

These bodies and those of Harlan C. Lewis, Robert C. Dooley and Edward Dooley, exhumed this Spring at Keytesville Mo., were found well preserved. The chemist attributes the excellent state of preservation to the effect of poison.

Shanghai Kelantan Rubber Estates, Ltd.

A loss of more than eleven thousand taels on the year's operations was shown in the reports read at the fifth annual general meeting of the Shanghai Kelantan Rubber Estates Ltd., held yesterday at the offices of the general mangers and secretaries, Messrs. A. R. Burkill and Sons. Unless some definite form of reconstruction is decided upon by the shareholders, the chairman read in his report, the company would be forced to the alternative of going into liquidation.

Mr. N. G. Maitland, chairman of the board of directors presided at yesterday's meeting. He was supported by Directors Robert S. Ivy and J. V. C. Davis, and, for the secretaries, Mr. E. A. Prince. Shares numbering 30,901 were represented.

Mr. Maitland, in his report, said:

THE CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

"Gentlemen.—Dealing first with the progress made by the estate during the year, an area of 21½ acres was added to the planted area. 208½ acres were felled, but only 151 burned and cleared, further work being abandoned owing to the financial situation.

"The estate was kept clean weeded throughout the year at a cost of $1.08 per acre which is slightly below last year's figure. The cost is still high owing to high rates demanded by Chinese coolies. The immature area was ploughed. This method not only serves the purpose of weeding, but it is also an excellent form of cultivation. The estate is remarkably free from disease. Although precautions have been taken, a number of trees were damaged by deer; the matter is receiving attention.

"The health of the estate has, on the whole, been good. Although cholera broke out in the state of Kelantan during the months of May to September, the estate completely escaped the epidemic. Influenza occurred in November, but was promptly taken in hand with the result that only 17 cases occurred. The good health can only be attributed to the excellent food and water supply obtainable by the labor force.

"One of the great drawbacks of the estate is he question of transport, but I am glad to say that the railway is nearing completion and should be running very shortly. This will help the estate considerably and will enable us to get our rubber to the market in better condition than is now possible.

"Now, turning to the accounts, the loss on the year's working amounts to Tls. 11,125.95 which added to the amount brought forward from last year brings the total standing to the debit of profit and loss account to Tls. 19,471.13. Our liabilities in Shanghai at the end of the year, including the overdraft at the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, amounted to Tls. 78,836.91. Of this amount, Tls. 31,302 is unpaid interest to the debenture holders. The financial position is far from satisfactory and one that is causing your directors great anxiety.

"When I addressed you last year, you were told that the directors were considering a scheme of reconstruction that would not only enable us to obtain funds sufficient to pay the then outstanding liabilities, but would also put us in a position to bring the whole estate into bearing. This scheme unfortunately fell through. It is quite obvious that under present conditions it is impossible to continue the business of the company, as we are daily getting deeper and deeper into debt.

"No interest has been paid to the debenture holders for 2½ years and I might say in addition to this the debenture holders have been advancing funds for the necessary upkeep of the estate. The amount of these advances appears in the account under the heading of 'Special Loan Account Tls. 6,015.31.' This state of affairs cannot continue indefinitely and unless shareholders come to the assistance of the company, the debenture holders must inevitably foreclose on the property.

"The directors have approached the debenture holders with a view to arriving at some definite form of reconstruction and the debenture holders have generously signified their willingness under certain conditions to accept preference shares in a new company in exchange for their debentures. Details of the proposed scheme will be put before the shareholders at a later date. In the meantime, I may say that one of the conditions under which the debenture holders are willing to make the very considerable concession above referred to is that the shareholders shall take up further shares in a new company to provide funds for the upkeep of the estate. Unless shareholders are willing to do this, the only alternative would appear to be the liquidation of the present company. Shareholders will readily understand that the liquidation and compulsory sale of the company's property under present conditions will not realise sufficient to pay debenture holders and creditors and that therefore there can be no return to shareholders."

The following resolutions were adopted:

"That the report and accounts for the year ended December, 31, 1920, as printed and circulated be passed.

"That Dr. R. S. Ivy be re-elected a director of the company.

"That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews, be re-elected auditors to the company."

Rubber Prices

Messrs. J. A. Wattie and Company have received the following telegram from Messrs. Barker and Company, London dated, June 22:

Average Spot price standard quality Ribbed Smoked Sheet 7d.
Average Spot price standard quality First Crepe 8d.
Market depressed.

Messrs. R. N. Truman and Company have received the following telegram from their Singapore Agents in connection with the auctions held at Singapore on June 22:

No. 1 Smoked Sheet $0.21 per pound equivalent to 0s. 5¾d. ex warehouse Singapore.
No. 1 Crepe $0.25 per pound equivalent to 0s. 7d. ex warehouse Singapore.
Market steady. Offered 654 tons: sold 313 tons.

Jute Fabrics

Mr. J. A. Frederick writes as follows in the jute fabrics circular dated June 22:

Inactivity of trade in this commodity continues to be the feature of our market. Local absorption on a small scale is slowly reducing stocks; but the main consuming centers—the north and Hankow—are out of the market, especially, Dalny, which is the principal purchaser in normal times. There seems to be no relief in sight in the immediate future. Prices are more or less nominal.

Singapore Rubber Auction

Singapore, June 9.—Following were the prices realised at our auction this week:

	Singapore per lb. Cents.
SHEET
Awarded Standard Ribbed	23½/23
Equal to Standard Ribbed	23/22
Off Quality Ribbed ...	22/14
CREPE
Equal to Standard First Latex	27/26½
Off Color Latex	27/19
Fine Brown	19/16
Good Brown	14/10
Good Dark	12½/9½
Barky	8½/5

Catalogued for Sale: 2,220,522 lbs. (about 991 tons).
Offered: 1,876,151 lbs. (about 838 tons).
Sold: 902,187 lbs. (about 403 tons).

During the past week the London market has remained weak with only very little business doing, and the local market has suffered a further decline.

The attendance at the auction was poor and business was practically confined to shorts covering.

Standard Sheet which sold in the morning at 23½ cents dropped in the afternoon to 23 cents, thus marking a decline of 3 cents on the week.

Sheet equal to Standard fetched round about 22 cents.

Off Quality Sheet was in moderate demand.

No lots of Standard First Latex Crepe changed hands.

Crepe equal to Standard and Off Color Latex were shown a little interest at 27 to 26 cents, which prices are about 2 cents down on the week. One lot only fetched 28 cents.

Brown, Dark and Barky Crepes sold at prices slightly below last week's.

At the close of the sales this afternoon the tendency was easier.

N. B.—The above prices for Standard Quality Sheet and Crepe are only paid for small lots at the auctions, whereas bigger quantities in the outside market generally fetch from 1 cent to 1½ above these figures.

Cotton

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their cotton market report of today:

China Cotton:—While our market on the local staple during the past week showed but very little improvement to that of the previous period yet the tendency has been more to a steadier than easier position. The principle and prominent feature being the great interest displayed by local spinners for Mid-Americans and Indians which are now obtainable at prices below those current on the local product and a fair volume of business particularly in Mid-Americans may be said to have been consummated at the close. Tone of the market, Steady.

Tebong Estate Meeting

Debenture holders of the Tebong Rubber and Tapioca Estate, Ltd., met yesterday at the offices of the secretaries and general managers to pass certain resolutions.

Mr. A. J. Welch presided, supported by Messrs. H. Martin Little and R. G. Macdonald, trustees for the debenture holders, and Mr. C. J. S. Stewart, secretary. The notice convening the meeting having been read the chairman said:

"At the last meeting held on May 27, I went into the financial position of the company pretty fully and as minutes of that meeting have since appeared in the public press I will not weary you by going all over the ground again.

"I told you then, in reply to certain questions, that every possible economy was being exercised on the estate and that the production cost was showing a steady reduction from month to month. The accounts for April, which are the latest to hand, show a cost of a trifle over 35 cents per pound, and except for the minimum sum necessary for the upkeep of the immature areas capital expenditure is at a standstill.

"It is a matter for regret that in the interim the price of rubber has shown a further depreciation of somewhat over 10 percent, which makes the necessity of getting on with the reconstruction scheme and thus putting the Company once more on a sound footing all the more urgent.

"I will therefore not take up your time with a long discourse but will proceed to read the resolutions to you, both of which are proposed by myself and seconded by Mr. J. R. Moodie.

"1.—That the draft deed of mortgage and trust submitted to this meeting and expressed to be made between the Tebong Rubber Estate, Limited, of the one part and Harry Martin Little and Roderick George Macdonald of the other part be and the same is hereby approved and that the said Harry Martin Little and Roderick George Macdonald be and they are hereby authorised to execute a deed of mortgage and trust in the terms of the said draft and to carry the same into effect with such (if any) modifications as the said trustees think expedient."

There being no questions the resolutions were adopted and passed.

WEATHER

The Rice Crisis

SHANGHAI as a community is face to face with another crisis, and this one, as in the case of others in the past, is the result of our unique secret municipal government. We refer to the crisis brought about by the decision of the Municipal Council to license, inspect and control the rice shops. As a result of this order no rice will be sold in this great city and its environs on and after July 1. That is the decision of the Rice Guild, and the guild has the support of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and the local Chinese officials. The Municipal Council itself, we understand, is active in the rice market, buying such supplies as it can get hold of, with the object of opening rice depots. It apparently thinks that it can take over the rice business from the planters, boatmen and dealers and feed the teeming population of this metropolis!

The situation to be faced is this: Only 17 rice cargoes arrived Wednesday, instead of the usual 50. The rice dealers have stopped buying other than daily supplies and have sent word to this effect to their up country agents. Result: Rice has stopped coming. And there is no government to which the Municipality can appeal which is capable of forcing the rice into Shanghai if the Rice Guild continues to say that it will not buy.

Briefly, the history of the crisis may be stated as follows: An order was issued, effective July 1, that free access be given to the police on duty and to officers of the revenue and health offices, and that "the licensee keep a correct, written record of the stock of rice in his possession and that such records be at all times open to the inspection of the police."

The object sought was a good one. The municipality wished to protect the public against hoarding, cornering and resultant high prices. Last year the price of rice reached $17 per picul. Local organisations flooded the Council with petitions for relief.

The chief cause of the shortage was believed to be due to the smuggling of rice for Japan, a matter that should be dealt with by the Customs officers. The rice dealers denied that the high price was due to hoarding and blamed the smugglers. Rice, they asserted, is a commodity the price of which is governed by the law of supply and demand. Should all the dealers hoard, the supply would become excessive and then the price would drop. The hoarders would be forced to sell or face heavy losses because storage rates are high, wages are high and rice is affected by weather conditions.

Further, said the rice dealers a panic might result from the limiting of stocks, for frequently the rice junks are delayed. Beyond that, they claimed their general right to use their own judgment in the buying of rice. One dealer might contract for a large supply at a certain price, figuring that the price would advance; another might wish to stay out of the market in the belief that the price would drop. Following upon its order the municipality probably would seek to limit the supply to each shop, so many piculs here, so many there, thus taking all the joy out of the business.

Naturally, when the Council issues an order, we like to see it obeyed; but we like more to know that the order is a good one. And we, speaking on behalf of the public, would like even more to see the public consulted about important matters. The day has gone by in this city when a small group can say "Our fiat is the law." The Council in this matter should have sounded public opinion. Open discussion does no harm. The Council was functioning in a good cause. Why not have let the public in on it?

The rice-dealers naturally resent the intrusion of the police imposed upon them by this order. Why should they be placed in the position of brothel-keepers and wine-shop keepers?

Public discussion would have obviated the present unpleasant situation. Ichang and Wuchang have just been looted, a huge war is raging in the southern provinces, there is more or less war in a dozen provinces, there are bandit hordes everywhere and there is no responsible government in China. Shanghai alone is peaceful. It is estimated that 5,000 Chinese move into and become residents of Shanghai every month. They come from all over China and they come because they find peace and protection here. All this being so, why should the Municipal Council precipitate this disturbance here?

As we say, our natural impulse is to support the Council and to help it in every way in carrying out its orders—this because we believe that it is always trying to do the right thing. The point we make is that we wish it to avoid mistakes, and public discussion of important matters is the only remedy or preventive we know of.

In the present crisis, brought about by secret government, the Rice Guild, rather than have the police invading the rice shops, has offered as a compromise, to supply the Municipal Council with weekly reports of the quantity of rice on hand, the price and the prospects of the rice market. It will, in our opinion, do this better than the police would do it, and we think the Council would only be doing the fair thing were it to accept this offer.

Chinese Views

Shun Pao: "All the rice-dealers are opposed to the new licensing of the rice shops. Their opposition is not on account of the fees to be paid but the inconvenience to be experienced in the carrying on of their business and the loss of the freedom which they had heretofore enjoyed. All merchants are agreed that their protest is justified.

"Now the rice merchants propose to strike as a means of retaliation. The shrewd business man will not endorse this proposal, because the strike will be an inconvenience to the Chinese who are the only rice consumers of the Settlement, while he author of the introduction of the licensing system is not at all effected.

"The discussion of the rice dealers involved the question of the power of licensing by the Council as contained in the Yangkingpang land regulations. But this is not a question of law. This is purely a matter of practice. Rice experts should be sent to interview members of the Council and present their views so that the Council may be benefitted by their experience.

"The Council has already announced that the license is not aimed to limit the quantity of stock. This is of course in direct contradiction against the license conditions and will naturally cause suspicion among the Chinese.

"As to the report of the Commissioner of Police that the benefit of the license is to enable the Council to know correctly the quantity of the rice stocked in Shanghai in case of emergency, we are afraid this explanation would not satisfy the rice merchants. Because there are many other staples of life which the Council does not attempt to control. How can all of these be licensed? Why are the flour dealers not licensed? Why are the rice-dealers licensed alone? The question is, would the public be actually benefitted by this licensing?"

Sin Wan Pao: "It is reported that the rice dealers of Shanghai have raised an outcry against the proposed municipal regulation governing their business. It is but natural that they should be strongly opposed to the licensing act of the Municipal Council. Hence they agitate for a general strike, which will throw the Settlement into utter confusion. We wish to call the attention of the public to the following suggestions:

"In reply to the protests from various organisations against the enforcement of the licensing act, which will go into operation from July first, the authorities of the Municipal Council wish to make it clear that the licensing of rice dealers has no bearing on the legitimate storing of cereals. In view of the fact that the local authorities must keep track of the amount of rice available in the Settlement, they deem it expedient for rice dealers to submit reports to the Council periodically. However, we doubt the necessity of investigation into the amount of rice available in Shanghai on the part of the municipal authorities. We are at a loss to account for the need of licensing. According to the announcement made by the Council, the issuance of license would not interfere with the cereal business. But so long as officials are authorised by the Council to investigate the standing of rice dealers, there is every possibility that they will abuse their authority. In view of the rice dealers' cry for the suspension of the licensing act governing their operations, the Council should consider the unanimous wish of the residents of this municipality.

"Inasmuch as cereals are vitally connected with the interest of the people at large, rice dealers should do their best to check the agitation for a general strike while fighting for their rights. It is absolutely necessary that they should not go to extremes, for a general strike may precipitate a serious economic crisis, which will throw the public into confusion. Let us hope that this issue will be amicably settled to the satisfaction of the parties concerned."

FREEDOM

(Judge Cluer lately stated that there was nothing to prevent him keeping chickens in his bedroom if he wished.)

We may not drink when once we drank,
Our incomes wane, taxation waxes,
To men of every kind of rank
The burden heavy on our backs is:
In theaters when once its eight
No longer may be bought and eaten
The smooth seductive chocolate,
But yet the Briton won't be beaten;
He dreams not of a by-gone day,
Nor thinks how well the world was then run,
While he reflects that still he may
Employ his bedroom as a hen-run.

HIS LIMIT

The same Judge Cluer made a good hit at the Shoreditch court recently. It was stated of a prisoner, "I don't know what he does for a living, but he is well dressed," to which the judge retorted, "But that may be at the expense of his tailor."

Probably it was, for there are plenty of men who live at other people's expenses by refusing to pay their bills. Sometimes, however, they are smitten by conscience, as in the case of a certain bored man who was taxed by a friend on his slack financial principles.

"Paid your tailor's bill yet?" asked the friend.

"Can't," replied the young man.

"Paid the florist?"

"Quite impos."

"What about your motoring bill?"

"They're still sending it in."

"If you can't pay for your own living," said the friend in disgust, "why don't you be decent enough to die?"

"And then run up an undertaker's bill?" retorted the young man. "My dear chap, there's a limit."

JACK LONDON AS A MUSICIAN

The news announcing the marriage of the daughter of Jack London calls to mind the following story of the late novelist, who had more adventures in his comparatively short life than a dozen ordinary men put together. He was fond of telling this adventure himself, and one can imagine the twinkle in his eye while telling it.

A friend was complimenting him upon his attributes, so Jack London thought that he would add to the song of praise himself.

"You didn't know that I was a musician, did you?" he asked.

"Why, no," replied the friend. "I didn't know that."

"Well, I once performed when I was a boy in California," said the novelist. "It was during the great rains, and the whole country was flooded. Our house got unbearable at last, so my father floated away on the wardrobe, while I accompanied him on the piano."

A FORD STORY

Mr. Henry Ford is famous for many things. He is famous for his "Peace Ark" during the early days of the war; he is famous for his motor-cars; and he is famous for the record number of stories told about him. Probably no other man—not even Pussyfoot—has figured in so many anecdotes, and here is the latest tale introducing the motor-magnate's name:

The owner of a Ford car found himself in trouble one afternoon, and, being miles from everywhere, had to throw himself upon the mercy of some Good Samaritan in a passing car. He did not use discrimination, but stopped the first car that came along—a priceless thing, costing not a farthing less than two thousand pounds.

"Say," cried the owner of the decrepit Ford, "d'you know anything about Ford cars?"

The gentleman who had been stopped raised a supercilious eyebrow:

"Um, no!" he replied. "Barring a couple of funny stories."

Panic Gives Real Test Of A Man

Lord Beaverbrook Shows How Calamity Discloses Whether Mind, Soul And Body Are Strong And Enduring Or Weak And Unsafe In Crisis

Some timid people go through life dreading that the skies may fall. They are pessimists. Others hope for the best. They are optimists. Both should read Lord Beaverbrook's article on "Panic." The great English publisher analyses the nature of panic and gives sound advice for all who fear a business or private crisis in these times.

BY LORD BEAVERBROOK

Panic is the fear which makes great masses of men rush into an abyss without due reason. It is, in fact, a mass sentiment with which there is no reasoning. Yet at one time or another in his career every man in business will be confronted with a stampede of this character, and if he does not understand how to deal with it he will be trampled in the mud.

The purely stubborn man will be the first to go under. He will say, and may be perfectly right in saying, that there is no real cause for anxiety. He will prepare to run slap through the storm, and refuse to reef a single financial sail. He forgets that the mere existence of panic in the minds of others is in itself as hard a factor in the situation as the real value of the properties on the market which are being stampeded.

The atmosphere of the business world is a reality even when the views which produce it are wrong. To face a panic one must first of all realise the intrinsic facts, and then allow for the misreading of others. It is the plastic and ingenious mind which will best grapple with these unusual circumstances. It will invent weapons and expedients with which to face each new phase of the position.

"Whenever you meet an abnormal situation," said the sage, "deal with it in an abnormal manner." That is sound advice.

COURAGE OF JUDGMENT

But a business panic is, after all, a rare phenomenon—something a man need only have to face once in a lifetime. It is the panic in the mind of the individual which is the perpetual danger. How many men are there who let this perpetual fear of financial disaster gnaw at their mind like a rat in the dark?

Those who only see the mask put on in the daytime would be astonished to know of the number of men who lay awake at night quaking with fear at some imagined disaster, the day of which will probably never come. These are the men who cannot keep a good heart—who lack that particular kind of courage which prevents a man becoming the prey of his own nervous imagination. They sell out good business enterprises at an absurdly low price because they have not got the nerve to hold on. Those who buy them secure the profits. One may pity the sellers, but cannot blame the buyers.

Those who have the courage of their judgment are bound to win. The pessimists foresee all the possibilities, and just because they foresee too much it may be that they will spin out of the disorder of their own minds a real failure which a little calmness and courage would have avoided.

The moment a man is infected with this internal panic-fear he ceases to be able to exercise his judgment. He is convinced, let us say, that the raw material of his industry is running short. He sees himself with contracts on hand which he will not be able to complete. Very likely there is not the remotest risk of any such shortage arising, but, in the excess of his anxiety, he buys too heavily, and at too high a price. His actions become impulsive rather than reasoned. It is true in the perfectly balanced temperament action will follow on judgment so quickly that the two operations cannot be distinguished, such decisions may appear to be precipitate or impulsive, but they are not really so. But the young man who has the disease of fear in his brain cells will act on an impulse which is purely irrational, because it is based on a blind terror and not on a reasoned experience.

When a man is in this state of mind the best thing he can do is to delay his final decisions until he has really thought the matter out. If he does this the actual facts of the case may, on reflection, prove far less serious than the impulsive and diseased mind has supposed.

But it must follow that a man who can only trust his judgment to operate after a period of time must be in the second class, compared with the formed judgment which can flash into sane action in a moment. He must always be a day behind the fair—a quality fatal to real success.

A SIMPLE RECIPE FOR CURE

How can the victim exercise from his mind this dread of the unknown—this partly conscious and partly subconscious form of fear, "which eats the heart away?" Nothing can throw off the grip which this acute anxiety has fixed on the brain except a resolute effort of will and intelligence. I, myself, would give one simple recipe for the cure. When you feel inclined to be anxious about the present, think of the worst anxiety you ever had in the past. Instead of one grip on the mind there will be two distinct grips—and the greater grip of the past will overpower the lesser one in the present. "Nothing," a man will say, "can be as bad as that crisis of old, and yet I survived it successfully. If I went through that and survived, how far less arduous and dangerous is the situation today?" A man can thus reason and will himself into the possession of a stout heart.

If a man can still the panic of his own heart he will need to fear very little all the storms which may rage against him from outside. "It is the nature of tense spirits," says Lord Rosebery, "to be unduly elated and unduly depressed." A man who can conquer these extremes and turn them into common level of effort is the man who will be master in the sphere of his own soul, and therefore capable of controlling the vast currents which flow from outside. He may rise to that height of calmness once exhibited by Lord Leverhulme, who, when threatened with a panic in his business, remarked:

LIKE A TORNADO

"Yes, of course, if the skies fall all the larks will be killed."

Panic, therefore, whether external or internal, is an experience which tests at once the body, the mind and the soul. The internal panic is an evil which can only be cured by a resolute application of the will and intellect to the subconscious self. The panic of a world suddenly convulsed in its markets is like a thunderstorm, sweeping from the mountains down the course of a river to where some town looks out on the bay. It comes in a moment from the wild and passes as swiftly into the sea. It has the evanescence of a dream and yet all the force of reality. It consists of air and rain, and yet the lighter substance, driven with the force of a panic passion, can uproot the solid materials, as the tornado the tall trees and the stone dwellings of humanity, and turn the secular lives of men into desolation and despair. When it has passed all seems calm, and only the human wreckage remains to show the power of the storm that has swept by.

RESERVES OF CHARACTER

To face these sudden blows, which seem to come out of the void, men must have their reserves of character and mentality well in hand. The first reserve is that of intellect.

Never let mere pride of obstinacy stand in the way of bowing to the storm. Firmness of character should on these terrible occasions be turned inside out and be formed into a plasticity of intellect which finds at once its inspiration and its courage in the adoption of novel expedients. The courage of the heart will let no expedient of the ingenuity be left untried. But both ingenuity and courage will find their real source in a health which has not yet exhausted the resources of the body. Firmness which is not obstinacy, health which is not the fad of the valetudinarian, adaptability which is not weakness, enterprise which is not rashness—these are the qualities which will preserve men in the evil days when the "blast of the terrible one is against the wall."

Annual Meeting Is Held By S. Moutrie & Company

The twenty-second annual general meeting of S. Moutrie and Company, Limited was held yesterday when 779 shares were present. Following the address of the Chairman, Mr. E. C. Pearce, five resolutions were adopted as follows:

1. Proposed by Mr. Pearce and seconded by Mr. N. J. Isenman: That the report and accounts be approved.

2. Proposed by Mr. H. Browett and seconded by Mr. A. C. Remedios: That Mr. J. H. Teesdale be re-elected a director of the company.

3. Proposed by Mr. W. Harvey and seconded by Mr. Wellbelove: That the directors' fees be raised from $1,400 to $2,250.

4. Proposed by Mr. J. Dean Wells and seconded by Mr. William S. Watson: That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be reappointed auditors of the company.

5. Proposed by Mr. Pearce and seconded by Mr. Teesdale: That the next annual meeting be held in June or July of 1922.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

The address of the Chairman follows:

Before proceeding with the business of the meeting, it is with very much regret that I have to record the death of Mr. F. J. Hinton—your managing director—which took place on the 21st instant at the Victoria Nursing Home after a short illness of about three weeks. His loss, I need hardly say, will be keenly felt by the company. He was a very able business man, and the successful strides in the company's undertaking during the last five or six years, have been very largely due to his business acumen, zeal and personal efforts.

In expressing our deepest sympathy to his family—who have so recently suffered the loss of Mrs. Hinton—I am sure I am only echoing the sentiments of all shareholders.

The report and accounts for our financial year having been in your hands for some days, I will, with your permission, take them as read.

PROFITABLE YEAR

In moving their adoption, it is with much pleasure that your board are enabled to lay before you today the results of another satisfactory year's working. The net profits for the twelve months ending 31st March last shows a credit at profit and loss account of $94,985.36, which, added to the amount of $13,894.64 carried forward from the previous twelve months working, equals $108,880, an interim dividend of 5 percent absorbing $15,420 was paid on the 26th November, leaving a divisible balance—after due provision has been made for depreciation—of $93,460, which your directors—as published in the report—recommend for distribution as follows:

Final dividend of 7 percent	$21,588.00
Bonus of $2 per share	12,336.00
Bonus to foreign staff.	6,846.37
Building reserve	40,000.00
Carry over to new account	12,689.63
Total	$93,460.00

The dividend proposed by your board, I am sure will be a most agreeable one, as also the bonus of $2 per share, which, no doubt will be duly appreciated by all shareholders.

Bonus to Foreign Staff: We feel that your staff well deserve this bonus in recognition for their hard work during the year. In this connection, I would like to make special mention of Mr. Paine, who filled the position of Acting Manager during Mr. Fred J. Hinton's absence on leave, to Mr. Hemsley, our Manager at Kuala Lumpur—whose result has been the most profitable of all our branches—to Mr. Jones, our Hongkong Manager; to Mr. Youngs, our Manager at Tientsin, and Mr. Madill at Singapore, as well as to the staff in all our Branches; they have worked well and the result of this most satisfactory year's working is very largely due to their loyal support and personal efforts; we trust, therefore, that you will approve of our recommendation.

BUILDING RESERVE

To our building reserve, we are adding $40,000 bringing this reserve up to $70,000. In addition to the reasons given you before, we have recently purchased a piece of land in the Yangtszepoo district for the purpose of building a new factory, our present factory having reached its utmost capacity of output. The site is situated on the Baikal Road and measures Mow 11.4.2.6 and cost the company Tls. 1.650 per mow. Like all the land in this district, it is a little low lying, and will cost—approximately—another Tls. 250 per Mow to raise it to a proper height. When this is done, we hope to build a thoroughly up-to-date piano factory. The cost of this land appears in our accounts, and stands to date at $20,979.

The demand for "Moutrie" Pianos continues very satisfactory, and notwithstanding the general depression in trade, still continues. Our output has exceeded all records, and as an item of interest, I might mention we have now manufactured no less than 4,000 pianos, since our present factory was built. There is no doubt that the wonderful instruments we are making under the very able supervision of our factory manager, Mr. Watson, are highly appreciated by the music loving public in the Far East. The cost of the building of this factory is now written down to the moderate figure of $20,000.

Our reserve account $55,000 and stock reserve account Tls. 23,000, remain the same, your board not considering it necessary to add to these accounts this year.

We carry forward to next year's working $12,689.63.

Your board venture to think that your business is in a very healthy condition. We have a credit balance at our Bankers of $77,909.09, which, of course, will be reduced by the amount of the appropriations recommended.

You will also notice among our assets a sum on fixed deposit of $43,732.81.

Under the heading of your liabilities, you will see that your Board have re-opened the Exchange Fluctuation Reserve, by placing to this account a sum of $50,000. This sum—practically speaking—represents our profit in exchange. All our stocks in the Straits Settlements were on the presentation of our last annual report taken in at Ex. 7-4, which, as I pointed out last year, involved a loss which your Board decided to face. This year, exchange on the 31st March, stood at 3-1, which means a corresponding gain to the company; in order, therefore, to equalise the silver value of your stocks held at the branches, in both Singapore and Kuala Lumpur, your board considered it highly recommendable to retain $50,000 in reserve against any future wide fluctuation.

With these remarks, gentlemen, I beg to propose the adoption of the report and accounts, but before putting the resolution to the meeting, I shall be pleased to answer any questions you may like to ask, to the best of my ability.

BACKGROUNDS IN DECORATION

Scientific experiments have shown that colours possess disturbing and soothing mental effects on both children and the aged. They have also shown how essential it is that the background of any room in which we spend a fair share of our time should be selected with discrimination both as to colour and design.

Dingy and uninteresting colours are very depressing; on the other hand, certain yellows for instance, create the effect of perpetual sunshine. You may also obtain an atmosphere of soothing restfulness, the joyous spirit of youth, or the dim and mellow tones of age, by a subtle choice of ground colour.

Our stock of wallpapers represent the work of the best designers and colourists in England, America and France. Our Decorating Experts will guide you in the selection of novel backgrounds of unconscious design, or of rich and glorious effects in colour.
